Area planned as nation's biggest 'piggyback' center

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

A project which could greatly alter railroad traffic in this area and make the southern edges of the Quad-City area the world's capital for piggyback transfers has been put on paper by the St. Louis Metro-Area Rail Gateway Project (MARGE) and is moving rapidly toward finalization.

The project is moving so fast that State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) warned, "We have to watch what they're doing, because we are locked in enough with railroads now without it being compounded by something like this."

The tentative environmental impact statements on the new railroad plan was announced last week and reactions the tentative plan have been voiced by several local officials since.

The MARGE plan has changed since it first was presented in April, 1980. Major changes include a proposed 600-acre "trailer-on-flatcar" (piggyback) yard in the vicinity of St. Louis International Raceway, west of Route 203 and north of Interstate 70-55, and a curtailment of plans for a major expansion of the current Madison rail yards.

Sixteen grade separations (overpasses and underpasses) are included in the study, including several in the Quad-City area, but some local officials are concerned that the priorities for overpasses are not the priorities the citizens would prefer.

Today is the last day citizens or officials may respond to the tentative environmental impact statement for the project, which is due to be published in mid-March.

Thomas P. Walsh, executive director of MARGE told the Press-Record that some of the concern over the tentative environmental impact statement is unfounded, since additional study is being done and there will be additional opportunities for citizens and public officials to make their feelings known on the plan before a final environmental impact statement is drafted.

The overpass priorities were the main concern to Rep. Wolf and to Harold Davis, supervisor of Nameoki Township.

Davis, who attended last week's hearing on the tentative impact statement, said he was "shocked" to learn that three overpasses in this area were given higher priorities than the Route 162 crossing.

Of the 16 crossings studied and rated in the tentative plan, there were four major overpasses or underpasses suggested in the Quad-City area.

Top priority was given to an overpass on Maryville Road at Route 203 (Nameoki Road). Next was a crossing on Pontoon Road just west of Pontoon Beach and third was the West Pontoon Road crossing just west of Nameoki Road.

Route 162 near East 23rd Street and Maryville Road ranked fourth in priority among the local overpasses. Walsh said the priorities were determined by traffic flows, both vehicular and the proposed railroad traffic after the rail relocation project is accomplished.

"In my opinion, the list of 16 that meet the criteria would all be eligible to be built, based upon funding and approval by the communities. The actual priority may mean something to local people, but it does not mean it (Route 162) will have to wait 20 years to be built, because it is not number one or number two, Walsh said.

Rep. Wolf said he was amazed that Route 162 did not have top priority. "I have sat at Route 162 for 30 minutes to an hour at a time waiting to get across. That crossing is one of my main concerns."

Another, he said, is the displacement of piggyback facilities and other rail spurs into this area. "It is just fine and dandy to clear the riverfront at East St. Louis of rail yards, but to make us the

Doggett convicted of murder

After seven and one-half hours of deliberation, a Madison County Circuit Court jury at 9:45 p.m. Friday found George L. Doggett Jr., 24, Collinsville, guilty of murder in the death of an 8-month-old girl Oct. 17, 1980. Doggett was accused of fatally beating Brandy Marie Pickering in her home at 2614 W. 20th St. Doctors testified the child's body and head appeared to have been beaten repeatedly with a hard blunt object. Doggett at first denied touching the child, but later told authorities he accidentally dropped the child when he picked her up to see why she was crying, according to official reports. Sentencing has been set for Feb. 20 at 1 p.m. and Doggett could face 40 to 80 years in prison, if Judge A.A. Mateosian considers his actions were unusually cruel or heinous. Otherwise, the prescribed sentence would be 20 to 40 years in prison for murder.

Considered key witnesses for the prosecution by Assistant State's Attorney Susan Jensen were two doctors who testified that Brandy's injuries appeared to be from a beating. The doctors were Dr. Armand E. Brudeur, a child-abuse specialist and chairman of the radiology department

Deny charges in van theft

Venice police plan to file misdemeanor charges against two men arrested at 12:30 a.m. Friday in a stolen van, which had stolen license plates and several auto batteries, alleged to be stolen, in the rear of the van.

The reason police are seeking misdemeanor charges is that Madison County State's Attorney Don Weber personally refused Friday to issue felony charges against the two men, Venice authorities said.

One of the two men, an 18-year-old Centerville man, was said to have been previously freed by Weber on a 30-day recognizance bond from another vehicle theft case and was under orders to report daily to an investigator for the Illinois secretary of state's office, which he did Friday, from the Venice jail.

According to official reports, Venice police discovered a stalled van on the viaduct and the driver said he was out of gasoline.

A computer check on the vehicle's license plates was run and showed that the plates had been stolen Thursday from the van of Lawrence Barry, 721 Third St., Venice.

Three men in the van were taken into

Woman dies after fire

Mrs. Eugenia Smith, 85, of 2716 Myrtle Ave., was severely burned in a fire in the bedroom of her home at 12:30 p.m. Thursday and died in the burn unit of Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, at 6:48 p.m. Thursday.

Her close friend, Mrs. Ida Grace, with whom Mrs. Smith resided, suffered burns to her hands when she attempted to pull the burning clothing from Mrs. Smith. She was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center after the fire. According to fire officials, Mrs. Smith may have been smoking in her bedroom when her clothing caught on fire. Mrs. Grace was unable to extinguish the fire and called for a Granite City ambulance.

City emergency medical technicians (EMTs) arrived at the scene and called for a fire department pumper to extinguish the smoldering carpet and wall which were damaged in the fire. The fire was out by the time the pumper arrived and damage was estimated at $100 to the room and $50 to its contents. Mrs. Smith suffered second and third degree burns to 90 percent of her body and was rushed to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Doctors there attempted to stabilize her condition and transferred her to Barnes Hospital, where she died.

Additional details and funeral arrangements may be found in today's obituary column.

Boy burned in Venice house fire

Two-year-old Brian Warren suffered minor burns to his hands and forehead as he was rescued by his mother, Mrs. Tina Warren, Friday morning when their three-room home at 111 Weber St., Venice, was destroyed by fire.

"I was in the bedroom and Brian was in the living room playing when I noticed the fire. It all went up so fast the house was air before I noticed it."

"I ran from the bedroom, grabbed my baby, yelled at two friends, that were in the basement, that the house was on fire and to get out quick and run outside," the mother said.

The baby was treated and released at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, according to the mother.

The Venice fire department was called to the scene at 8:25 a.m. and returned to the fire station at 10:05 a.m.

Cause of the fire is undetermined and value of property has not been set, according to a fire department spokesman.

The Madison fire department was called out for assistance with the fire. The house was destroyed along with all the contents and the Warren family possessions.

Mrs. Warren and young Brian are staying with her mother, Mrs. Helen Endicott, 1419 Third St., Madison.

Anyone interested in helping with clothes or furniture may do so by contacting Mrs. Endicott or Mrs. Warren's sister, Mrs. Connie Land, 1517 Second St., Madison.

cutting ceremonies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, marking the grand opening of the University Center's newly renovated facilities. In Board, snip the ribbon as others look on. Others,

grand opening committee; Charles and Cal

Most BAC classes to start on time

Belleville Area College's spring semester is expected to begin on time, despite a major power failure Jan. 9.
Classes in the two original sections of the main campus building are to start Jan. 19.
Most classes scheduled for the third and newest wing of the building will be relocated if emergency power cannot be provided. Students whose courses are in that section—especially those in welding — should contact instructors to find out if their class will meet.

A maximum three-week

delay in the start of those courses is anticipated by BAC officials.

The power outage was caused by a short in lines between the main switching boxes and transformers. A switch malfunctioned
causing a surge of electricity to back up into the transformers, destroying them.

Power was shut off from 4 to 6 p.m. Tuesday to replace the main transformer. BAC officials originally believed it had not been damaged, but later discovered it was leaking.

The transformers are adjacent to the boiler building which is detached from and east of the main building. No one was injured.
Raker's Electric Co.
estimates it will cost $100,000

to replace the transformers.
BAC will pay $1,000 of that amount. The remainder will be paid by the Illinois Building Authority and the Capital Development Board, with which the college carries insurance to cover such incidents.

It is believed the explosion was caused by a mechanical failure.

Extension center classes are not affected, officials said.

Heating cost help offered

The Madison County EOC will begin accepting applications for the 1981 Low Income Energy Assistance Program (LIEAP) today.

The program offers help with heating bills for low-income households. EOC will distribute approximately $77,000 to the residents of Madison County. This year EOC will be able to accept more applications due to the structure of the program.

The amounts of individual grants will vary according to family size, income and other criteria.

Social Security income and Public Aid recipients will not be eligible to apply this year.
Those individuals will receive a direct check in the mail from the Social Security Administration or the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

A one-person household can qualify if its income is $4,736 or less. A household of four can have an income up to $10,000. Applicants are asked to bring documents

providing the households income, Social Security Card, and a copy of the last energy bill for proof that it is in your name.

Verification of income for all income earning persons within the household such as W-2 forms, year-to-date
check stub is needed.
Without income verification the payment of grant cannot be made. This is important to insure prompt payment.

Persons who believe their households may be eligible are encouraged to call our energy hot line number 462-1157 weekdays from 8:30 to 5:00 for additional information.

Applications from residents of this area will be accepted at Dunbar Johnson Center, Third and Jackson streets, Madison.

YMCA Week celebrated

This week, the Tri-City Area YMCA is joining more than 1,800 YMCAs across the country in a nationwide celebration of YMCA Week.
David Femrite, executive director of the "Y," announced.

"During 'Y' Week, we are inviting everyone in the community to visit the YMCA at 2001 Edison Ave.
and see how it has changed in the past few months, as well as get a glimpse of what the 'Y' has in store for 1981," Femrite said.

"The changes in the Tri-City Area YMCA reflect a number of changes that have been going on in YMCAs across the country, both in fitness programs and in participants," Femrite added.

He pointed to the rapid growth of racquetball memberships as one example of change. Equally dramatic has been the growth in participation by women and girls. "In the past few years, this has been the most rapid expanding group in the 'Y.' Women and girls now constitute 41 percent of 'Y' participants nationally and, if recent trends continue, should make up at least half of 'Y' participants by the end of the 1980s," Femrite stated.

"Almost from the beginning, YMCAs have emphasized physical fitness," he said. Femrite also cited a number of other areas where 'Ys' are focusing more attention than ever before, including specific programs for senior citizens, co-ed fun days for children on Saturdays and generally providing more youth programs.

Three SIUE workshops set

University policies,

will be included in a wide range of organizational techniques and procedures discussed in those workshops during winter quarter at free of charge to students and the general public by the University's Student Activities Office.

A workshop on communication skills will be offered Tuesday, Jan. 27, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the International Room of the University Center. The focus of this workshop will be on listening skills, defensiveness, and analyzing-negotiating.

Elaine Moore, staff development representative for McDonnell-Douglas Corporation, will be the guest speaker at a workshop dealing with time management, Tuesday, Feb.
10, from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. in

Housing board may face budget squabble

Approval of the Madison County Housing Authority's 1981 budget could be held up by another dispute between the authority and the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Source of the potential dispute is a 1979 federal law concerning the length of HUD's contract to provide subsidies to local housing authorities for the operation of low-income housing.

The authority board last week agreed to extend the HUD's contract to review the board's proposed 1981 budget, which was prepared in September.

In the meantime, board attorney Casper Nighossian said he would seek to determine how HUD is interpreting the new law.

Nighossian said his initial view is that HUD may be planning to hold up approval of the authority's budget until the board agrees to extend its contract with HUD by 10 years. He said he did not think this was made mandatory by the law.

The law apparently is designed to allow certain housing authorities, whose contracts with HUD are due to expire, to continue receiving subsidies if they extend their contracts and promise to keep abiding by HUD's regulations, Nighossian said.

He said the Madison County Housing Authority's contract with HUD is not scheduled to expire in the near future. The authority board may or may not wish to get out from under federal regulations when its contract does expire, he added.

Nighossian said he thinks it may be another case of HUD seeking to exceed its authority. He was critical of HUD when it held up the Madison County Housing Authority's 1980 budget because it objected to how much Nighossian was to be paid.

In other business at the Jan. 8 meeting the board: — Reopened until Feb. 12, the date of its next regular meeting, so it could reconsider the contract it awarded for the purchase of four copiers.

The board last month approved purchase of four Minolta copiers from Copying Concepts of St. Louis at a cost of $14,452. Board member Reese Hoskin, who made the motion to approve the purchase, was absent Jan. 8.

Executive Director Janet Haroian said she later found out that a Toshiba machine bid at a lower price by Suburban Business Products of Maryland Heights, Mo. actually did meet the authority's specifications. The authority could have saved $2,100 by changing its decision, Haroian said.

Approved hiring Municipal Information Systems of St. Louis at a cost of up to $600 to help prepare the authority's books for the year-end audit.

Approval came after the board discussed the matter in a closed session.

The firm's assistance is needed because the authority's accountant, Tim Gossett, was just hired Nov. 24, Haroian said.

Nameoki assessment meeting cancelled

Nameoki Township Tax Assessor Carl Macios has cancelled a meeting on assessments which was planned for Thursday, Jan. 22, in the Nameoki Town Hall.

Macios said several hundred persons attended the first such meeting Jan. 13 and it was impossible to give adequate attention to each person requiring help in filling out objection forms protesting the 1980 assessments of their homes.

Macios said he can offer better service to residents unhappy with their assessments at his office, 78 Cambridge Drive, where Supervisor Harold Davis and other are assisting him in serving township residents.

who wish to protest their assessments.

"I want everyone to know that my office will be open day or night this week to help those who need help in filling out the objection forms. Hundreds have already been filled out, he said.

Those filing objections will be granted a hearing before the Madison County Board of Review, which may increase or decrease the assessment, or leave it unchanged.

A full reappraisal of the township by the county resulted in some assessments climbing by as much as 300 percent and Macios is urging everyone who had a steep increase to file for a Board of Review hearing.

Witness theft of television

Police are attempting to identify two men who were seen removing a television set from room 216 at the Travelodge Motel, 19th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, last week. Steve Watlington, Jackson, Tenn., who was staying in that room, said he and another man were walking to their rooms when they were passed in the hallway by two men carrying a television. When Watlington reached his room, he saw that the television had been taken.

He saw the two men loading the set into a large auto in the parking lot, possibly a Cadillac, and they left. Watlington gave the license plate number of police, who said it was issued to a Venice man. Authorities are investigating.

There were no signs of forced entry into the room and police believe a key was used to gain entry. The television set was valued at $200.

McPike gets House post

House Minority Leader Michael J. Madigan has announced the appointment of Representative Jim McPike (D-Alton) as House Minority Whip for the 82nd General Assembly.

McPike, who was elected in 1980 to his third term in the Illinois House, will assist Madigan in directing the legislative policies and programs of the Democratic Party in the Illinois House.

"Although it is unusual for a representative only in his third term to be picked for a leadership post," Madigan said, "I feel that Jim has shown exceptional leadership qualities during his four years in the House and will be an excellent voice for Southern Illinois on my leadership team."

McPike gained prominence in the House during 1980 for his able handling of legislation to reform the Illinois Workmen's Compensation Program and reduce the cost of doing business in Illinois without sacrificing significant benefits for the working people of Illinois.

McPike, 37, is a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy with a BS in Naval Science. He also holds a BS degree in Business from Jacksonville University (Florida) and an MA degree in Economics from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. McPike served five years in the United States Navy as an officer and pilot.

dumping ground, that's something else," Wolf stated.

He said the original plan presented in April talked about a two-yard or three-yard plan, with much of the expansion being to the Madison rail yard, which would have expanded to the south, into St. Clair County.

"Now they are talking about an area south of the speedway. It needs study by us," Wolf said, criticizing MARGE for not notifying him personally of Tuesday's hearing. "I asked to be on their mailing list, but I did not get anything on this meeting," Wolf said.

MARGE is tentatively planning to build a 600-acre trailer-on-flatcar yard in the vicinity of the drag strip, displacing the raceway. The piggyback yard would probably be the largest one in the world, Walsh said.

Nine railroads have expressed an interest in using the proposed piggyback yard, which would enable truck trailers to be switched directly from one railroad's flatcar to another railroad, eliminating the need to truck the trailers from one yard to another.

Walsh said plans for the piggyback yard were not announced in the original

Area planned

plan in April "because we had not located a site for it when we proposed the original meetings."

It is likely the yard would close the dragstrip, which would have to be relocated by MARGE. "We will be obligated to move all businesses and homes in the project area and replace them in kind somewhere else," he added.

Most of the 600 acres under study for the piggyback yard now is vacant, Walsh said, noting that many of the railroad switching yards, the 600-acre facility would be "a relatively small yard, but probably the largest trailer on flatcar, or piggyback yard, in the world."

The environmental impact statement does not obligate MARGE to go through with any of the proposed projects, he explained, saying it simply reflects that studies of potential impact from noise and other factors on the quality of water, ecological systems and others had been done and no significant adverse impacts were found.

Within 45 days, MARGE will hold a public hearing for additional input before drafting the final environmental impact statement, for publication in July or August.

"The public gets one more shot," he summarized.

He said that although plans have changed somewhat since the April hearing, the primary considerations of whether there should be a two-yard or three-yard plan still are being studied, although planners are leaning toward three yards able to dispatch traffic rail traffic in every direction.

The initial indications that the Madison Yard would grow significantly was based upon acceptance of the two-yard plan, Walsh said.

Under either a three-yard directional plan or a three-yard bi-directional plan, the size of the Madison yard would not be increased much, but the yard would be increased for local industry traffic.

The proposed new yard at National City would become the major yard, other than the Gateway Yard in Centerville, which also will expand under either three-yard plan, he added.

The three-yard plans now are "the preferred and cheapest plans," Walsh stated.

Van theft

custody and a records check then was run on the van, which had been reported stolen from D&M Auto Sales in Cahokia.

The owner of the sales lot told Venice police he had given the key to the van to a black man Monday, Jan. 12, to turn on the engine and believes the man kept the key. Later, the van was stolen.

He gave a description of the man who obtained the key to the van and it matched the description of one of the men Venice police had in custody.

Police found four auto batteries in the van and attempted to trace the ownership. Jim Britt, 1021 Third St.,

Venice, who had reported a battery stolen from his car Thursday, was asked to come to the police station and look at the batteries. He identified one battery as the one which was stolen from his car.

Police talked to the three men and one, who police do not believe was involved in the theft, signed a statement, saying that one of the men told him they had stolen the batteries, wanted to steal at least one more and then could sell them at a salvage yard south of Madison for $8 to $12 each.

Venice officers took the evidence to Weber, who declined to issue felony charges against either the 18-year-old or the 21-year-old East St. Louis man who was with him in the van and ordered the 21-year-old released without being charged, it was related. Weber said St. Clair County might want to prosecute for the van theft in Cahokia and ordered Venice to hold the 18-year-old for the weekend, in case St. Clair County authorities wanted him, police added.

Nonetheless, Venice police were preparing this morning to charge both men with misdemeanor theft charges in connection with the stolen auto battery from Britt's auto, they said.

recorded at 43.3 feet or almost 45 feet higher than the Mississippi River is now.

Floyd Wade, lockmaster at Locks No. 27 here, said that locking procedures are almost normal with little ice or other problems. He said that the farther upriver near the confluence with the Illinois River the ice build-up was causing problems with barge navigation.

Most of the river traffic is southbound going through the local locks now. Wade said that "we do have a few barges going upriver, but these are mainly from the St. Louis port."

Extremely low river stages south of the St. Louis District has caused many groundings and a complete shutdown of the navigation channel for barge traffic at Memphis, Tenn.

The series of 28 locks and dams north of the Granite City locks were constructed to maintain the 9-foot deep, 300-foot wide navigation channel for river traffic, especially during low water periods.

three years in the Army and has been with the Granite City Bank for 10 years.

He is president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, past president of the Rotary Club, and has served on the board of directors of the Tri-Cities Area United Way. He resides in Granite City with his wife, Joni, and two children, Andrew and Kelley.

Other officers of the bank are Richard T. Singer, senior vice-president; Dave Giese, vice-president and cashier; Barry Loman, John Polson, Anthony J. Zedolek and Robert Dietrich, vice-presidents; Robert J. Hildebrand, vice-president and trust officer; Daniel Diebert and Jacklyn Willaredt, assistant vice-presidents; Clara Parker and Irene Feeler, assistant cashiers; Melvin Embrich, loan officer and Thomas Cole, auditor.

The newly-elected president pointed to the success the bank has achieved during the past year, despite the general condition of the economy. He emphasized the bank's dedication to the Quad-City area and faith in its future—substantiated by the Granite City Bank's continuing investment in the area, as exemplified by its vigorous loan policy.

New programs introduced during the past year included Total Teller, 24-hour-a-day, every day automatic teller service, with two Granite City locations. "This means our customers have access to their accounts whether or not the bank lobby is open," Karandjeff said.

The Granite City Bank also introduced the Paychek Account, which pays interest on personal checking accounts. "Like all of our interest-bearing accounts," Karandjeff noted, "Paychek delivers the highest interest the law allows—one of the ways in which we insure that Granite City enjoys banking services unsurpassed by any in the country."

Burglar takes weapons, cash

A burglar pried plywood from the frame of a rear patio window to gain entry into the home of Chris Skoklo, 1607 Fifth St., Madison, it was reported during the weekend.

Among the items stolen were a 30-30 caliber Winchester, a 4-10 gauge shotgun, a .38 caliber snubnose revolver, a Colt revolver with a six-inch barrel, an undetermined amount of jewelry and $350 cash.

Delay Arlin Davis sentencing

The sentencing of Arlin Davis, scheduled for last Thursday, has been delayed for about two weeks because the case was assigned to a different judge.

Circuit Judge Victor Mosele, who found Davis guilty Nov. 26, left the bench Dec. 1 after failing to win retention in the November election. The judge that hears a case is normally the one who pronounces sentence.

Davis faces up to three years imprisonment for his conviction on three counts of reckless homicide, one count of driving while intoxicated and one count of driving on a revoked license.

The charges stemmed from an accident on State Aid 35 on New Year's Eve, 1979, in which three Granite City residents were killed. Newly-appointed Circuit Judge Philip Rarick took Mosele's cases, but disqualified himself from the Davis case.

Matoesian replaced Mosele as the circuit's chief criminal judge. He said he assigned himself the case after Rarick disqualified himself.

However, earlier in the week, Davis' attorney, John Gilchoff, filed a motion for substitution of judges. Matoesian said an attorney can be granted two automatic substitutions. The case was then referred to Chief Judge Horace Calvo for reassignment.

Calvo signed an order Tuesday assigning the case to Associate Judge John Day. Day said that he would have to read the presentence investigation on Davis and would, if necessary, read portions of the transcript of Davis' trial. Gilchoff indicated in November that the conviction will probably be appealed.

Church Women United Assembly

Highlights of programs conducted in 1980 were presented at the 35th annual assembly of Church Women United of the Quad-Cities held last week at the First United Presbyterian Church.

A prelude to the meeting was given by Burdine Holtzschner. Mrs. Dolores Allen, CWU president, offered welcoming remarks.

Dr. David B. Maxton, pastor of the host church, led the meditation, "That They May Be One, Even As We Are One," taken from John 17:11.

Mrs. Marie Isenburt, secretary, reported on various projects sponsored by the CWU last year. She noted a total of 731 pints of blood was donated to the Illinois-Missouri

American Red Cross through the blood program.

Sixty layettes were given to unwed mothers in which to take their infants home from hospital and also to help them get started in caring for the babies. This program was assisted with a sizeable donation from the Old News Boys project, she said.

Other action programs of Church Women United in which members actively participated were reviewed, including Mobile Meals, CROP, Friends in Learning, Hospice, Least Coin, Mental Health, Senior Service and Visitation.

Mrs. Allen said several CWU representatives are expected to attend the annual general membership meeting of Hospice, scheduled at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 21, in the multipurpose room at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Guest speaker will be Cathy Downs from The Ronald McDonald House in St. Louis.

The proposed budget for 1981 was presented and accepted and a financial report was given by Mildred Jungels.

Future events planned, include a legislative workshop, Feb. 17, at Nameoki United Methodist Church; and World Day of Prayer, March 6, at Dewey Avenue United Methodist Church.

The assembly concluded with the installation of new officers under the direction of Mrs. Marion Pierson, immediate past president.

Refreshments were served by the host church during a fellowship hour.

KEITH GEHLING

Scores goal in loss . . .

Gehling has homecoming

By PETE HAYES

ST. LOUIS — Keith Gehling stood in the gloomy maze of hallways beneath the St. Louis Checkerdome. He shook his head. For the eighth time this season, his Wichita Wings of the Major Indoor Soccer League had lost a road game. Sunday night, it was an 8-5 setback at the hands of the St. Louis Steamers.

"I can't figure it out," said Gehling, a native of Granite City. "We've had all kinds of trouble on the road (2-8). But nobody can touch us at home (where Wichita is 10-1). Heck, we even beat MISL champion New York at home." But Gehling doesn't mind playing on the road in St. Louis. Because for him, it's a homecoming. A 1974 graduate of Granite City South High, Gehling played before a pretty large "fan club" when the Wings visit the Checkerdome. Last night, for instance, fans hung a banner from the upper deck which read, "Welcome Home Keith. Happy 25th Birthday."

"Actually, my birthday's not until next Friday," Gehling said. "But this was as close as I would get to playing here on my birthday."

Gehling celebrated his birthday in style. Even, a North-South Wings' defender, scored his third goal of the season in the fourth quarter. It made the score 7-5 at that point. Did scoring in front of the hometown fans mean anything special? "Oh sure," he said. "But I always like to score, no matter where it is." The goal came when he pounced on the rebound of a teammate's blocked shot and booted the ball into the empty side of the net.

Gehling, who finished second in the MISL Rookie of the Year voting last season, didn't play all that much last night. In fact, he didn't start, as he had two weeks ago in the Wings' last visit to St. Louis. But when it came time for Wichita to kill off a penalty when it was a man short, out came Gehling. "To tell you the truth, I don't really know why I didn't play very much," he said. "I had been playing quite a bit up until the last two or three games. But there are a few players who are coming back off injuries now and I imagine coach (Roy) Turner wants to get them some time."

"Besides, it's a long season. He probably wants to get everybody in, so nobody gets too fatigued." Gehling feels the Wings will be among the final four teams to play in St.

Louis when the Checkerdome hosts the MISL semifinals and finals. "That's one reason we wanted to win this one here," he said. "Because we know we'll be here. Our team is greatly improved from last season. We're more skillful and more mature."

Playing, let alone winning, is hard to do in St. Louis. "Other teams try and get the fans excited like St. Louis does," said Gehling. "But nobody comes close. It's hard to keep your mind on the game you've got to play when they're introducing the Steamers."

"Coach gives us the pre-game talk and then we come out on the floor and it's maybe 15 minutes before we start the game. It's intimidating to stand there with the lights out, the spotlight on all that steam (through which the Steamers charge when introduced) and listen to that music and the crowd, and that announcer, Kevin Slaten. He's the best thing in the MISL. He really gets the people going."

But Gehling has one complaint about Slaten, Steamers' public address announcer. "He introduces me as being from St. Louis. I'm not. I'm from Granite City and I wish he'd introduce me as being from Granite City."

"We've got good fans in Wichita, too. The area there only holds about 10,000, so it gets pretty noisy. Our 8,000 people or so make as much noise as the people here."

Gehling played soccer at Granite City High before the North-South split and one year after. His junior year, he was a starter on Coach John Sellmeyer's 1972 state champions, the first Illinois state soccer champs. "People forget about that one," said Gehling. "We won the very first one. They just start counting the ones after Baker got here."

Gehling played his senior year under present South head coach Gene Baker, whose last five South teams have won the state title. "He's a great coach and a good friend," he said.

In the off-season, Gehling, who has a marketing degree from Rockhurst College in Kansas City, plays outdoor soccer with the California Sunshine of the American Soccer League. "I hope to play with an NASL (North American Soccer League) team next summer," he said. "But I know I can't play soccer year-round forever. That's why I'm glad I went to college and got my degree. You have to look to the future."

Wins fourth of season . . .

South buries North

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City South basketball Warriors continued the "whammy" they have on crosstown rivals Granite City North here Friday night with a convincing 42-47 Gateway East Conference victory over the Steelers at South. It was South's fifth straight win over North.

The yearly cage clash between the two sister high schools turned out to be anything but a battle.

The way the second third of their season has been going, it was just another normal game for the Warriors, according to South head coach Don Deterding. "We did what we were supposed to do," he said. "As it turned out, South's play was nearly flawless."

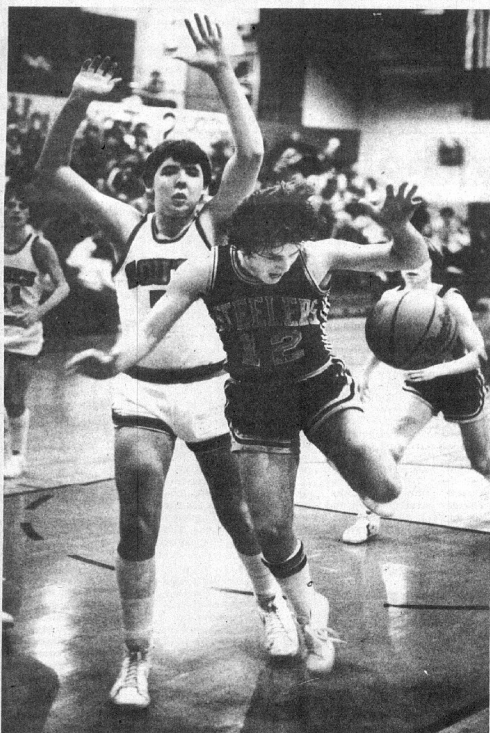

North's performance could have put that of the Warriors had it not been for the South defense. The Steelers trailed by three after one period and the turnover count had North down 5-1. After the next two frames, the difference was staggering at 18-5 and by that time, so was the score.

"South plays good defense," said Steeler head coach Bill Ohlendorf. "You have to give credit to them. They applied pressure and we couldn't handle it." The Warrior's George Sykes was another item North couldn't get a clamp on.

Throwing in half of South's first quarter points, Sykes added 10 more in the second stanza and only missed three shots in the first half. He cooled off to get eight in the entire second 16 minutes of play for a game high 26 points, but where he failed off, Jim Choat picked up.

Connecting on eight of 13, Choat bombed away from the perimeter for 16 tallies. "Jim (Choat) missed two days of practice before this game because of the flu," said Deterding. "He played a super game for us."

Eric Waltonberger chipped in with 10 first half points and 16 overall. His dominating play inside earned him with 10 rebounds. Sykes' excellence was not complete as he also grabbed nine. But, North controlled the boards out-muscling South 40-35. Roddy led the charge with 12.

On the other end of the court, the Steeler had their own fire power that tried to keep them in the game.

Harold Roddy drilled in 57 percent of his shots and accounted for a team high 20 points. "That Roddy can really shoot the ball," said

Deterding. And when North needed a quick bucket, Carl Luehmann used his weaving magic.

Driving through the South defense with reckless abandon, Luehmann sparked a fourth quarter show. Drawing numerous fouls, these senior guard stepped to the free throw line, nine times in the second half and seven times in the fourth frame. Converting six of 11, Luehmann pulled in behind Roddy with 16 tallies.

Luehmann's efforts ignited a 30 point explosion from the Steelers in the final quarter. But when it came time for the Warriors, the game wouldn't be complete without some excitement. Midway through the contest, it looked like the fans would be peeling out before the game was over. Never fear, tradition held true.

At one point, the Warriors were flirting with a 30 point blow-out, but the Steelers would have no part of such an embarrassment. Luehmann's acrobatics and Roddy's keen eye brought North to within 11, 74-63. Unfortunately, there was just two minutes left and the Steelers couldn't make that final surge. North was also helped along by Rich Thimajian's 12 points and Terry Martin's 10.

"I'm not unhappy with the defensive effort," said Deterding. "You say, they scored 67 points, but 30 came in the fourth quarter."

Game one of the 1980-81 North-South cage duel belongs to the Warriors as they pushed their advantage over North to 6-4. They also improved their season mark to 4-10. "We are not playing bad basketball," said Deterding.

Tom Miller helped the Warriors put together a strong second half as South downed the Steelers 70-51 in the Junior Varsity preliminary game.

Delivering 12 points in the last 16 minutes, Miller chalked up a game high 19. He also pulled down 12 rebounds. John Linhart followed with 17 points as Jim Petty added 13 and four assists.

Steve Tritschuh led the way for North, pouring 17 while Paul Barrington accounted for 10.

Steamers come back to down Wichita 8-5

ST. LOUIS — It was a long haul, but the St. Louis Steamers finally made the comeback here Sunday night — and the result was their 17th victory in 22 games this season with an 8-5 win over the Wichita Wings and the Checkerdome. Tony Glavin and Don Ebert each scored a three-goal hat trick which added numerous caps, hats and berets to their collections when elated fans tossed hats onto the floor in honor their accomplishments. For Glavin, it was his third three-goal game of the season. It was Ebert's fourth.

"I keep these hats," said Ebert, the former St. Edwardsville Cougar and number one draft choice of the New York Cosmos. "I have a trophy I hand them all on." That trophy must be getting pretty heavy by now.

St. Louis fell behind 2-0 and 4-2 in the first half. "I hate to say it," said Pat McBride, Steamers' head in the third period. It came at the 1:32 mark and was the last goal of a three-goal comeback that took place in that short amount of time. You see, the Steamers trailed 4-3 at halftime. And it was indeed an uphill climb. Until that three-goal barrage by St. Louis early in the second half, the Steamers were out-busted and out-played by the Wings. It looked as if the nearly 100 Wichita fans who made the trip to St. Louis for the game by bus would have a happy trip back home to Kansas.

Steamer head coach Pat McBride must have lifted five under his team at halftime. The victory raised the St. Louis record to 17-5, while Wichita, leader in the Western Division of the MISL, dropped to 12-9. St. Louis now has a 3½ game lead over second-place Cleveland in the Central Division.

St. Louis fell behind 2-0 and 4-2 in the first half. "I hate to say it," said Pat McBride, Steamers' head coach. "But we might be playing better when we fall behind. We seem to be intense when we're behind."

Kim Roentved scored the first goal of the game for the Wings at the 1:21 mark of the first quarter. Teammate Andy Chapman scored his 11th goal of the season at the 6:35 mark. Suddenly, it was 2-0. But back rallied the Steamers. At 6:57, Ebert scored his first goal of the game off an assist from teammate Carl Rose. Then Emilio Romero scored (from Glavin) to make it 2-2. But Wichita's Kevin Kewly made it 3-2 at 14:43 on a power play goal after Steamer captain Steve Pecher was given a two minute penalty for delay of game.

In the second quarter, Wichita again claimed it two-goal lead when Wing Mike Powers scored his first of the season unassisted at 1:18. Ebert scored his second of the game at 6:20 after taking

Steelers swamp Centralia

CENTRALIA — There is not much you can do to stop a charging bull, except to get out of its way.

The Granite City North wrestling Steelers continued their rampage here Saturday with a 54-3 shelling of host school Centralia and a 41-19 beating of Carbondale. The back-to-back wins pushes the Steelers season mark to 15-6-1. The best season record for North since 1977. When a team wins every match except one, you don't feel sorry for the opposing squad, you feel for the wrestler that didn't win that one match. The Steelers' 167 pound John Morris was the only grappler to come away without a victory against the Orphans.

Having beaten teammate Dave Patton, the regular 167 pounder, in a challenge bout earlier in the week, Morris was dumped by John Pate 4-2. It turned out to be Centralia's only points of the match. "John really felt bad about losing," said Steeler head coach Walt Whitaker. "It was a close bout, though."

North looked strong in the other 11 bouts. Greg Nemeth at 98 and Mike Robinson at 105 both took forfeit wins and the match was all but over.

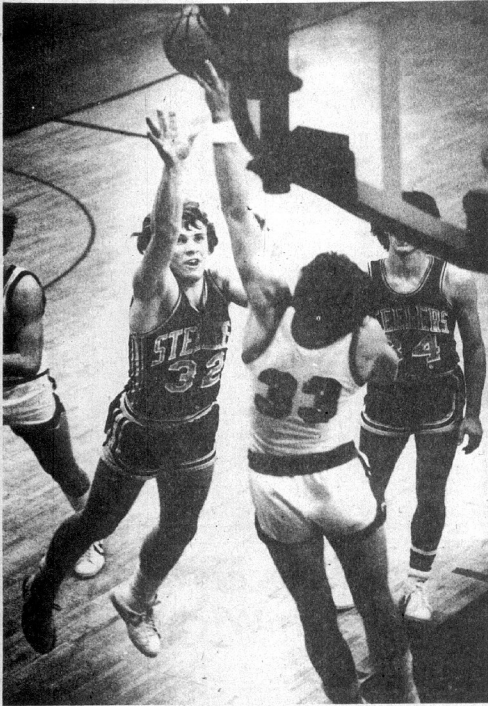

Gerald Miller hurried things along with a 23 second pin over Tod Bohlinman at 112. Steve Smith likewise wasted little time completing his bout as he pinned Dan Pate in the second period at 119.

The thumping continued when Rod Unger at 126 beat Tom Fiorenzi, 9-1. Steve Gibson left no room for error as he downed James Beasley 12-5 at 132. Glenn Thompson made sure of his win when he shutout Paul Stamer at 138, 7-0.

The following two bouts pitted brothers against brothers. The Steelers tandem came on top. Brian and Scott Corey went up against Scott and Mark Shaw. Brian Corey at 145 pinned Scott Shaw in the first period while Scott Corey

Whelans out, but Mizzou crushes SIUE

Special to the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — The Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville wrestling squad suffered their worst defeat in the history of the school as they fell to the Tigers of Missouri 44-3. Both teams were hampered with injury, but the phenomenal depth of the Missouri squad proved to be too much for the Cougars. Tom Reed, senior three-time All-American for the Cougars at 118 points, is ranked second in the nation at that weight. Missouri's entry was sophomore Joe Spinnola, who is the seventh ranked in the 118 pound class. Spinnola nailed Reed for the first two takedowns and grabbed a 4-2 lead after the first two periods. Using his superior physical conditioning, Reed scored eight third period points on three takedowns and a near-fall to post a 10-7 win. This was the only win of the night for the Cougars. Missouri's All American Whelan of Granite City, were both sidelined with injuries, and were replaced admirably by 126 pound Rocky Streb and 134 pound Dave Harris. The Cougar 126 pound regular Andre Brown was unable to make weight, so 118 pound reserve Scott Clement was moved up, but was crushed by Streb 19-7. Frank Curry, transfer from the University of Utah faced Harris in the 134 pound bout. In a tough battle, neither was able to score in the first period, but Curry suffered a bitten tongue. The profuse bleeding had an enervating effect on the Cougar entry and Harris secured the fall 45 seconds into the second period. Curry was rushed to the hospital and received nine stitches to close the wound.

The 142 pound bout pitted

two of the nations premier 142 pounders in SIUE's Tim Ervin and Missouri's Bill Porter. Ervin, who has been sidelined with an ankle sprain for a month, took a 4-2 lead, but fell 10-7 due to lost conditioning. The next two Tigers secured fall as 150 pound John Heiner pinned Steve Koch at 4:32 and 158 pound Wes Roper pinned Mark Reinders at 6:19, after each has romped during the matches. SIUE 67 pounder Mike Babcock was sidelined with the flu, so 142 pound back-up Brian Gagne was moved up. Facing Dale Whitehouse, Gagne wrestled tough, but succumbed to superior size and strength to lose 9-2. Cougar 177 pounder Norm Mitchell took a 2-1 lead on Tiger Dave Young, but the Missouri entry came back to score a 10-6 win. Another Cougar missing from the lineup is 190 pound Joe Glaser, who underwent surgery Friday on the ligaments in his knee. He was replaced by 167 pound reserve Brian Blumhail, who was duly pinned by the much bigger Brad Mosely of Mizzou at 4:11.

Win Dupo Tournament

Trojans demolish Pirates

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor of the Press-Record
DUPO — The Madison Trojans made it look easy here Friday night when they demolished Pattonville, Mo. 97-67 in the championship game of the Dupo Tournament. It was Madison's second straight tournament championship of the season. The Trojans won the prestigious Centennial Holiday Tournament New Year's Eve. This one was considerably easier to win. Madison was never challenged by Pattonville. The Trojans led by 16 points at the end of the first quarter and 17 at halftime. But Pattonville's Pirates, thanks to some sloppy play by Madison's substitutes who made entrance into the game early on, narrowed the gap somewhat in the third period when it outscored Madison 24-18 to trail 62-53 heading into the fourth quarter. But off the bench came Patrick Hatter and he did his thing. Hatter's "thing" was to reel off a scoring explosion that saw the Trojans jump out to a 20-point-plus lead and never look back. "We had our chances to bury them early in the game," said Madison head coach Larry Graham. "But we didn't do it. I don't think we played real well." Really, that was the truth. But despite a sub-par outing, the Trojans still managed a 30-point victory. Pattonville is looking the Trojans weren't at the top of their game. "Pattonville's not really too bad of a team," said Graham. "They've got some good players." The game was marred then and again by turnovers — both by Pattonville and Madison. "Our ballhandling was terrible," said Graham. "We're going to have to work on it."

As impressive as hatter was down the stretch, so were Morris Hughes and Charles Claggett in the first half. With Hughes scoring 13 points in the first quarter (mainly on inside offensive rebounds) and Claggett gunning the ball through the opp in the second quarter, the Trojans were on their way early.

Full-court pressure by Madison caused Pattonville turnovers that the Trojans turned into baskets. "I thought we had some good individual efforts," said Graham. "Hatter's a pretty good player, isn't he?" All Hatter did during his scoring spree was make the first eight points of the fourth quarter.

That was all she wrote.

Hatter scored 17 points in a little less than four minutes. The Trojans were led in scoring by Hatter and Hughes who each scored 19 points. Both were named to the All-Tournament First Team. Claggett and Kervin Stanley were named to the second team. Dupo's Rick Doerr, who scored 93 points in three tournament games (including 46 against Pattonville in the semifinals) was named the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

South grapplers down West

BELLEVILLE — Looking at the area's prep wrestling schedule, Friday's match at Belleville between the West Maroons and the Granite City South Warriors could have been billed as one of the premier matches. That was at the start of the season. After South had thrashed West 38-20, the Maroons will remember one important lesson. Don't rile a Warrior. "For the first time in a few years we beat them," said South head coach Bill Schmitt. "During the time they were streaking with those 67 straight dual meet wins, we always had one first line player out when we met them. West would always win by one bout and usually by a fall. The luck was with us this time."

Cris Cottrell's easy 13-3 win over Jeff Fahey at the 98 pound bout had to give South good feelings. But, the Warriors were dealt a severe blow when Mike Turgovich was pinned late in the second period by Tim Partelow at 105. Turgovich was only losing 9-8 up until then. Disappointment was spelled again. At 112, Rich Miller was forced to default his match with Jim Kurtz because of a chest injury. Miller was trailing 6-1, but West was given six team points instead of maybe only one. Greg Garland bounced back for the Warriors with a 7-5 decision over Steve Gauch at 119. "We had to sweat Garland's bout out," said Schmitt. "He was just getting over a cold and he gave out late in the bout. It was a good thing he held on."

Coming back from a knee injury, Randy Lupardus had little trouble with Jon Allard at 126, winning 12-2. South's good fortune wouldn't last as Mike Nieber continued to have his problems, dropping a 13-0 decision to Darren Ross at 132. To make matters worse, the Warriors' Tom Elroy was taken down in the last six seconds of his bout with Bob Dahm at 138. Consequently, it was a close call for a West's best wrestler, a 3-1 win. South really had its work cut out. Down 20-11 in the match and only five bouts left had the Warriors backed into a corner. It was a mistake the Maroons would pay for.

With the front seven bouts taking close to 45 minutes to complete, the Warriors were on the war path. The back five matches took no longer than 20 minutes to finish. Jon Frangoulis began the onslaught when he pinned Mark Peoples at the 3:26 mark of his 153 bout. Dean Perkins ran his unbeaten streak to 18 straight with a 13-1 beating of Jim Fishbein at 155 while Ken Dowdy recorded a 8-0 whitewash at 167 over Jim McHenry. The final two bouts were completed before the wrestlers even had a chance to break a sweat.

At 185, Jim Frangoulis

beat Tod Whitaker at the 1:19 mark in the first period and Bruce Monahan took just 54 seconds to finish Al Keita in the heavyweight match. "The people we thought would be out, regrouped," said Schmitt. "That was Lupardus and Monahan. Garland was another that did a good job under tough circumstances." From the beginning of the season, West just didn't have the team like they have had in the past. They have been beat by Granite North, Roxana, East St. Louis and now by us." It improved South's season mark to 10-1. "When you play a tough team, you better have your best line-up," added Schmitt. "That's the moral of the story."

South hockey team wins

Special to the Press-Record
ST. LOUIS — Since its slow start, dropping the first four games of the season, the Granite City South Warriors hockey club has rebounded with some strength and put together a 2-2-3 mark including a 9-1 romp over Southwest here Saturday. With the season at its mid-way stage, the Warriors overall record now stands at 1-1-1. It took a while for South to crack the Southwest net, but when it did, the puck was flying. Joe Koch broke the scoreless deadlock with an unassisted goal at the 5:19 mark of the first period. Ray Romine fed Jeff Jensen with an assist and just 11 seconds had elapsed as Jensen put the Warriors up, 2-0.

The flurry had started. Pat Hells held off a bit longer when he beat the Southwest goalie 22 seconds after Jensen's score. The assist went to Darren Partney. "The first three goals were scored by our third line," said South head coach Harold Dix. "It was the first time they were put in the game. It sparked everyone on the team."

Tim Phelps and Gary Brown were certainly fired up as they blasted two unassisted goals 36 seconds apart from each other. Phelps' tally game with 1:34 left in the opening period. Southwest held off the Warrior rifle corp until the five minute mark again. But Tim Dix added to South's total in the second stanza with a score. The assists went to Phelps, his second and Partney. Phelps collected his second goal of the game in the period as the Warriors ended the second frame in complete control, 7-1. "I thought they (South) were a defense, but no offense," said coach Dix. "They played a dump and run game. They would dump the puck in the other end of the rink and then run after it."

Bill Schreiber and Koch put the finishing touches on the Warriors' win in the final period. Schreiber's goal was assisted by Brown while Koch's second goal of the game came from Ron Snelson.

"We're coming around," said coach Dix. "We had streaks of four games without a loss before St. Louis University High and Clayton University. We were in those games, too, until the third period. We just fell apart then."

Grigsby downs Webster

GRANITE CITY — The Grigsby Jr. High eighth grade basketball team crushed Webster (Collinsville) 52-20 here Thursday, raising its record to 7-1. Leading the Gator scoring attack was Derek Metz with 13 points. David Baggett and Kurt Hyla added eight each, and Scott Cant and Billy Schneider had seven and six respectively. Shane Cole had four points, and Eric Mueller, Don Wallace, and Randy Burgess had two each.

The seventh grade team edged Webster 19-18. Gary Shora lead the back with eight points, followed by Scott Cookson with six and Mark Bowen with five.

The Grigsby wrestling team traveled to Collinsville and came away with a 35-35 tie. Winning by pin were Mike Tindall (105), Mark Whitaker (112), Don Hemphill (101) and Jason Durrett (124).

YMCA planning soccer
GRANITE CITY — The Tri-City Area YMCA has announced the formation of a Saturday morning boys indoor floor hockey league. Play is scheduled to begin Jan. 31 and continue for eight consecutive weeks. The league will meet from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. at the downtown facility.

According to YMCA spokesman Bill Berger, "Indoor floor hockey is a fast paced and easy to learn game designed for strenuous activity and continuous play."

No physical contact is allowed.

Cougars hold on to beat Quincy Hawks

By AL BARNES
For the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — If strength of schedule is the top factor in deciding what teams qualify for post-season tournaments in the NCAA division II, the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team couldn't be faulted for thinking that it had a chance for a nod.

Now, 8-10 after a convincing 76-65 victory Saturday night over the visiting Quincy College quintet at Edwardsville High, the Cougars will have a glorious opportunity to knock off the No. 1 NCAA division II team, Wright State U., of Dayton, Ohio, this coming Saturday night. This past week, the Indiana, the Wright State Raiders were walloped by the St. Joseph College Pumas, 87-80. Early in the season, on the same floor at St. Joe, the Cougars demolished the Pumas, 78-69. But, Saturday night as SIUE whittled the Quincy Hawks, the Cougars suffered what may be a paralyzing blow: the loss of freshman sensation, Henry Felton, to a suffering severe injury to his right ankle. Felton topped all scorers in the Cougar victory over Joe as he poured in 24 points. In their triumph over the Quincy Hawks, again the Cougars zoomed out to a first half lead 40 to 34, but Coach Sherril Hanks' charges never gave up and fought back courageously to pull the game out. However, some spectacular shooting by the Cougars' high point man, sophomore Ted Smith, slammed the door on the Hawks. The Teupopolis, Ill., star wing-forward hit on five of his first seven shots in the second half and, when the Hawks had to foul to get the ball, he made four of four from the line. That four free throws ran his record for the year to 46 of 52; good for either the No. 1 or No. 2 spot nationally.

Randall Jones of Madison, Ill., came on to fill the scoring loss due to Felton's injury and connected for 12 points. Scott Kabala hit 11, but despite his free-throw shooting reputation, could make only four of six tries. "We're still a team," said Coach Sherril Hanks, "but we're through with nine timely points."

Venice bows to tough Vashon, 93-83

ST. LOUIS — The Venice Red Devil basketball team is doing some "devilish" things lately. Head Coach Ken Perkins had to sit out the game with Vashon of St. Louis here Saturday with St. Louis. It didn't stop the Red Devils, showing they still can throw up the still.

With the abundance of tallies being scored, the lack of a head coach was needed to tell the Red Devils that defense is the other half in winning. It was something they failed to do when they were outscored by Vashon 93-83.

The winning edge was taken off a little with numerous turnover by Venice. "We made too many turnovers," said Mosby. "At one point we threw away three passes in a row. I just couldn't find the right combination."

We could have won the game in the fourth quarter. We had a chance to cut the lead to three and we just threw the ball away. It seemed to take everything out of us."

A defensive effort was attempted by both squads, but it only resulted in more points being scored. Vashon led the way when it was whistle for 23 personal fouls. Venice wasn't too far behind with 20.

Assistant Coach Chuck Mosby took over the reins as head coach in place of an ailing Perkins. But the situation was not all that foreign. "It wasn't difficult handling these guys," said Mosby. "I had most of them in Junior Varsity last year. The biggest problem was making them think they were winners. It was really hard to make them want to win late in the game."

The winning edge was taken off a little with numerous turnover by Venice. "We made too many turnovers," said Mosby. "At one point we threw away three passes in a row. I just couldn't find the right combination."

It turned out that among the artillery from the floor, a spot on the free throw line was worse than. Vashon connected on 19 attempts while Venice hit 18 tries. "Of the free throws we shot, we didn't shoot that many late in the game," said Mosby. "In fact, we missed the front end of at least five one-and-one attempts."

Archie Gardner let everything hang out when he pumped in a game and season high 33 points. William Was bombarded from the guard position with 19 as John Williams added 11.

Vashon balanced its scoring among 10 different players and placed four in double figures. "We didn't have any inside play to stop them," said Mosby. "After they got by our guards, it was clear sailing to the basket. They owned the boards in the fourth quarter."

Jonas Cody paced the victors with 22 points. Brian Hopkins, Terry Waller and Philip McDonald all chipped in 10 a piece.

Nutrition important for today's athletes

There are many theories circulating in many locker rooms, both girls' and boys', about the correct diet for athletes. Because of their increased physical activity, athletes usually do require additional calories. When participating in sports, a teen boy may need up to 5,000 calories a day (normal requirement 2700-2800) and a teen girl up to 3,800 calories a day (normal requirement 2100-2200). But these extra calories should be taken from the Basic Four Food Groups (particularly from the bread and cereal group or carbohydrates) and not from candies and chips that are high in sugar, fat and salt. Some of these theories or misconceptions concern the following:

1. High protein diets. Not only are these diets costly, they may also be harmful to your body. Muscle mass is not increased by additional protein, but by conditioning or exercise. The additional protein from these diets may cause kidney stress, loss of appetite, diarrhea and dehydration, which leads to less strength and, therefore, poorer athletic performance.
2. Vitamin or mineral supplementation. This is not necessary if you eat well balanced meals and should never be a substitute for food. In fact, taking them in large doses could be harmful, particularly Vitamin A and C. Excessive or toxic amounts could cause hair loss, dizziness, and other complications. Prolonged, excessive doses of Vitamin C have even been known to cause kidney stones, diarrhea, heartburn, or gas. There is no substitute for the Basic Four Food Groups.

3. Quick, drastic weight reduction, particularly with wrestlers to make a certain weight class. If a person loses 3 percent of their body weight within a short period of time, muscle tissue is used for energy and actual strength can be reduced. It may also permanently stunt growth and muscle development.
4. Salt tablets and water restriction. Salt and water from the body are lost during strenuous exercise. Low water intake before, during and after leads to dehydration which may cause fatigue, heat stroke and even death in extreme cases, particularly in hot weather. Guzzling water is not recommended, but small amounts at a time, about 200 ml or a little less than one cup of a non-carbonated beverage are recommended before, during and after a practice or game and will replenish the body's fluid loss efficiently.

Salt tablets are not recommended. Although salt does help the body absorb water more rapidly, salt needs can easily be met by the use of seasonings in foods.

5. Carbohydrate or glycogen loading for endurance sports. This is a very rigorous and strenuous practice that many professional, mature athletes have been practicing it weekly suggested that they only do it 2-3 times per year, but many high school athletes are practicing it weekly throughout the season of the sport. Carbohydrate loading works as follows: the athlete exercises to exhaustion and eats no high carbohydrate foods, thus depleting the reserve energy source in their cells called glycogen. Then 2-3 days before the event, they gorge themselves with lots of carbohydrates, pancakes, pastas, breads, so that the glycogen level in their cells is 2-3 times that of normal, which they think will increase their endurance span 2-3 times.

Just from the sound of the drastic changes that take place within the body, you can see why it is not recommended for teen athletes, since their muscles and bodies may still be growing. And high school sports are not of sufficient duration to exhaust their normal levels of glycogen. The best diet for an athlete to follow is the old Basic Four Food Groups, taking additional servings from the bread and cereal group for increased number of calories needed. Milk Group — Four servings daily; Meat Group — Two servings daily; Fruit and Vegetable Group — Four servings with a citrus daily; Grain Group — Four servings daily (plus).

Other tips for athletes include eating three hours before an event to allow your body time to digest the meal and avoiding foods high in fat, since they take longer to digest. Easily digestible carbohydrates are suggested before an athletic event.

Tim Wyrostek cruised to an easy 13-0 win over Gary All at 185 and Dave Owens produced the second fastest pin of the day at heavyweight. In 24 seconds, Owens had beaten Larry Walker.

"Winning matches like these does help the momentum," said Whitaker. "It's O.K. to win big, just as long as you don't retain bad habits. We have enough good teams on our schedule that we are not lulled into thinking we can do some things against weaker teams that we normally couldn't against the good ones."

Carbondale wanted to get a good look at the Steelers because the two squads meet again at the end of the month. It seemed nobody wanted to wrestle Tennant at 96. He received his second forfeit win of the day against the Terriers.

North gave Carbondale a good dose of what to look forward to in its home gym as Robinson at 105 pinned Willie Mack late in the second frame. At 112, Miller must not like long bouts. He recorded another lightning fast pin. This one took just 28 seconds as he tagged Mitch Bryant.

Smith at 119 won a 12-4 decision over Mat Leming before the Terriers got on the scoreboard. North's Unger dropped an 8-0 bout to Tim Brown at 126, but Gibson made up the difference with a pin of Kim Hudson at 132 and Thompson pulled in with a 7-3 win over Brian Brown at 138.

Carbondale tried to put another dent in the Steeler lead when Todd Knewitz pinned Brian Corey late in the second stanza, but Scott Corey stood up for his flesh and blood with a 11-1 beating of Vince Brown at 155.

Morris was given a reprieve with a forfeit win at 167. The Terriers nearly doubled their score with Mark Schreimann's 5-0 win over Wyrostek at 185 and Owens at heavyweight.

"They weren't the caliber teams we're used to around this area," said Whitaker. "But we're good enough to be ready for the good teams. The difference in those matches are how we match up in the upper weights."

The Steelers will get the an assisting outlet pass from Steamer goalie Sloba Iljevski.

Then came the comeback. On a power play, Glavin scored his first goal of the game at the 53 second mark. The go-ahead goal was scored by Bellinger unassisted on a length of the floor rush at 1:35. Glavin scored his second goal of the game at 2:35 on an assist from Keough.

In the fourth period, Glavin got his hat trick at the 4:32 mark on a power play goal with an assist from Tom Emilio John.

Granite Cityan Keith Gehling scored his third goal of the season at the 10:43 mark, with an assist going to Brian Timmon. That made the score 7-5. Ebert got his hat trick and the icing on the cake at 13:44 off an assist from Yilmaz Orhan.

St. Louis could actually have had more breathing room. They had a two man advantage at one point in the third period, but couldn't convert.

St. Louis outshot Wichita 78-60. Iljevski made 41 saves. Mike Dowler made 26 for Wichita. Attendance was 14,366. The next action for the Steamers will be Wednesday in Cleveland.

Surgeon hired by Cardinals

ST. LOUIS — Dr. Jordan Ginsburg has begun an association with the football Cardinals to serve as the orthopedic surgeon on the club's medical staff, according to an announcement today by club president Bill Bidwill and Dr. Bernard Garfinkel, the Cardinals' medical director.

Dr. Ginsburg, a member of the division of orthopedic surgery at Barnes and Jewish Hospitals, replaces Dr. James Elsassner as team surgeon. Dr. Elsassner, who was associated with the Cardinals as their surgeon for 10 years, asked to be relieved of his duties with the club because of the growing demands of his private practice. He is a member of the orthopedic staff at Barnes Hospital as well as that of Washington University.

Dr. Ginsburg, 34, has been the team physician and surgeon for the Washington University athletic program in St. Louis since 1974. The native Chicagoan is a graduate of the University of Michigan and also of the University of Illinois Medical School. He performed his orthopedic internship at Barnes Hospital.

Hospice a blessing for patient and her family

By ED GURNEY

Last January, Georgia Karabec was in such pain that even morphine provided little relief.

She was eating very little. What she did eat she threw up.

One of her three children had to be with her at all times. Because of the strain on the children and their families, it was probably a matter of days or weeks until she'd have had to be put in a nursing home.

Georgia Karabec, 73, had terminal cancer.

It was in January that her daughters, Jackie Eaton of Collinsville and Mrs. Jack (Pat) Lee of Hollywood Heights, decided to call the Hospice of Madison County in Granite City. It proved a wise decision.

"They came out the same day we called," Pat said. "They just came right in and took over."

The Hospice, which observed its first anniversary in the fall, is based at the St. Elizabeth Medical Center. It is designed to allow a terminally ill cancer patient to live at home in as little pain as possible, and to assist him and his family in coping with the situation.

"They are such warm people...oh, my God," Pat said. "The most important thing about the Hospice," said Jack, "was the idea you could pick up the telephone and you could call and they would be there if you needed them."

Pat and Jack Lee, needless to say, are two of the Hospice's biggest boosters. Pat, Jackie and their brother had at first tried to take care of their mother at her Washington Park home. Mrs. Karabec cried for hours at a time, and progressively got worse.

"This is the type of thing that really depresses a family," Jack said. "You can't imagine what it's like unless you've been there."

Mrs. Karabec was finally brought to stay at the Lee home. Jack said the two most important benefits of the Hospice were its pain-relieving medicine and having nurses on call at all times.

"Before the Hospice, if anything happened you had to get in touch with the doctor, and you know how hard that is," Jack said.

Medicine from the Hospice helped ease Mrs. Karabec's pain. "The most important thing is she was able to eat and keep it down," Jack said. "The psychological value of that is tremendous."

The Hospice personnel also convinced Mrs. Karabec's family that the family was best qualified to take care of her, since it knew her needs. "Once the girls (Pat and Jackie) gained assurance," Jack said, "it seems like it brought the whole family together."

Speaking of family, he added, "These people (from the Hospice) became members of our family, really. That's important. You looked forward to seeing them come out."

Mrs. Karabec finally had to be taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center when she suffered a broken hip. After she left there she was in a nursing home for five days before she died last April 27.

"After she died and things settled down, you realized how they helped," Jack said. "You feel like you should help other people."

He approached Rosemarie Lindner, Hospice administrative assistant, with his idea to hold a benefit dance to raise money for the Hospice. The Hospice has relied heavily on donations and fund-raising events for operating revenue.

Jack, who is president of Insurance Workers Local 145, then began speaking to unions and other groups to seek donations and spread the word about the Hospice. He said he's gotten a "fantastic reception."

Lindner said he "is better than anyone else on our speakers bureau." So far, his efforts have helped raise more than $2,200.

The money is much appreciated by the Hospice officials and their 30 volunteers.

The Hospice has served 79 patients and families. It has held two training programs for nurses and three for volunteers. Another training program for volunteers is planned for the near future. The Madison County group has formed a successful organization for survivors, and is involved in discussions to form a Hospice to serve St. Clair County.

Craft Shop sessions at SIUE

The opportunity to break out of those winter blues by being creative is available through winter workshops at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Craft Shop.

According to Ed Carly, director of the Craft Shop, registration for the non-credit classes is open until Jan. 23, with classes beginning the week of Jan. 26. Fees for the six-week classes, which meet once a week for two hours, range from $15 to $27 and cover instruction and supplies.

Workshops offered include painting, ceramics, kids' workshops, pencil drawing, photography, and stained glass. Since class sizes are limited and advanced registration is required, Carly advises people to sign up early.

Carly also added that these classes are designed with the beginner in mind. "This series of non-credit classes are for the beginner, for the person who always had a desire to learn a craft but didn't know where to start," said Carly. "The instructors start from the very, very beginning under the assumption, you don't know anything about the craft."

Classes will meet in the Craft Shop in the University Center or in the Craft Shop Annex, which is behind the cafeteria in the patio area of the University Center. Times the classes are offered varies, but Carly said many evening workshops are available to enable community members to participate.

Registration may be completed by mail. For more information, interested people may call the Craft Shop at (618) 692-2178.

George Hubert joins Air Force

George Hubert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hubert, of 179 Briarwood Drive, has enlisted in the U.S. Air Force, according to S-Sgt. Jarrett, Air Force representative at 3875 Nameoki Road.

Upon graduation from the Air Force's six weeks basic military training, he will receive training in the Fire Protection Specialist. He is a 1980 graduate of Granite City High School South.

Completes course

Private Charles P. Summer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billie H. Summer, 3029 Ash Ave., recently completed One Station Unit Training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

OSUT is a 12-week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training. The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations.

This qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect fire crewman. Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

tributed to the Salvation Army Tree of Lights.

Trio topic -- weight control

"Controlling Weight and Behavior Modification" was the lesson at last week's meeting of the Trio Unit of Madison County Home Extension at Hope Lutheran Church.

Presented by Helen Roessner and Marie Durbin, the lesson featured nutritional charts, recommended calories for losing weight, various recipes and helpful cooking tips.

"Who says you can't have fun on a diet?" the women asked to conclude the program.

Vivian Forshee, health and safety chairman, gave tips on preventing television fires. She advised never to clean the screen with the set on and always to unplug the set while on vacation, among other hints.

Several items were displayed and patterns were distributed by Helen Towne, cultural arts chairman.

A dessert luncheon was served by the hostesses, Auretta Santagato and Lucy Stewart.

Pat Mitchell, chairman, conducted the business session and announced plans for a recipe swap at 10 a.m. Jan. 26, at her home.

Members were asked to bring a sack lunch. Lucille Sackett and Helen Miller will provide a lesson on German Cooking at the Feb. 3 meeting.

The hostesses will serve a German dessert and members were invited to contribute $1 each to help defray expenses.

The meeting concluded with a white elephant auction. Naomi Chapman served as auctioneer.

Thorngate elects

Mrs. Enid Bolen was elected president of Thorngate Garden Club at its meeting last week in the home of Mrs. Clara Schillinger, 2323 Lynch Ave. Named to serve with Mrs. Bolen in 1981 were: Miss Jean Bethel, vice president; Mrs. Helen Polley, treasurer; and Mrs. Betty King, secretary.

The new officers will be installed by Mrs. Pat Polley at the February meeting, scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. Wanda Kincaid, who recently moved to Lake St. Louis, Mo.

Members made plans to "share a ride" to the Kincaid home. At last week's meeting, the hostesses served a luncheon of party sandwiches and pineapple "yum yum" dessert. She was assisted by her granddaughters, Mrs. Kathy Schillinger and Mrs. Donna Brastfield. The table was attractively appointed and a "vegetable man" decorated each plate. Favors were handmade snowflake hat pads. Mrs. Kincaid offered the invocation.

Mrs. June Lux, president, was in charge of the business session and roll call was answered with "something you want to accomplish in 1981."

The chili supper will be sponsored by the DeMolay Chapter and take place Tuesday, Feb. 17, at the Masonic Temple. Serving will be from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m.

Handmade items and white elephant objects will be offered for sale during the chili event and the youths will be assisted by the mothers, it was announced.

Mrs. Audrey Cormier, mother of DeMolay James Cormier, was welcomed as a new member.

Arrangements were made to attend a district meeting last week in Alton. The next meeting of the Granite City club was set for Tuesday, Feb. 3, at 7:30 p.m.

"A fireplace is a good, cheap way to supplement central heating"?

- ☐ True ☐ False ☐ Maybe

Whether or not a woodburning fireplace is an efficient source of heat depends on its design.

Illinois Power wants our customers to be aware that the conventional open fireplace could be an expensive and inefficient way to provide heat.

Here's why: the strong draft of air that pulls the smoke up the chimney must be replaced. That means that air from other rooms and from the outside is drawn through the house into the fireplace and up the chimney. So while it's warm near the fire, other rooms are being cooled. And your central heating works harder than ever.

Cozy as your open fireplace is, it could also be boosting your heating bill. But perhaps its charm is worth the expense. Given the facts above, that's for you to decide.

Fireplace Tips

- Fireplaces equipped with air re-circulation devices can be an efficient source of heat. Check the modern designs now available.
- Well-fitted glass doors seal off the cold down-draft from the chimney after the fire has burned out.

- Keep the damper closed when the fireplace is not in use. An open damper has the same effect as an open window.
- For energy saving ideas about fireplaces, ask our Energy Use Advisor.

The Hilltoppers met last week at St. John United Church of Christ and heard several readings concerning the new year.

Carl Huenken presided, substituting for club officers who were ill. Mrs. Katherine Roman gave the opening prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance was repeated by all.

Several songs were sung, with Mrs. Ellen Ehlerth accompanying the group at the piano.

The program consisted of readings by Mrs. Lillian Adams, whose topic was "Liberty and Freedom," Mrs. Helen Pfeiffer, who offered a "New Year Prayer" and Huenken, whose reading was entitled "Keep Me From Thinking."

Messages of greeting were signed and sent to four members—Mrs. Irene Hendricks and Mrs. Clara Harbig, both residing at The Colonades, and Oliver Pfeiffer and Mrs. Lillian Ruebhausen, who have been ill and are recuperating at home.

The Lord's Prayer and "Till We Meet Again" concluded the program. Refreshments were served and games were played for the remainder of the afternoon.

Seminar on digestive problems

Now that the "healthy look" is popular, most people are concerned with the shape their stomachs are in. The ideal of beauty has come a long way since Renaissance painters chose plump models to depict the finest in figures; today's beautiful people have lean, trim midsections.

However, what goes on inside people's bellies is just as important as how they look on the outside. Thousands of Americans suffer with the pain and discomfort of digestive problems, such as, constipation, diarrhea, ulcers, hemorrhoids and colitis.

While these disorders may not make polite party conversation topics, the number of products widely advertised to ease their discomfort reflects a strong need. For the man "who can't believe he ate the whole thing," there are many ways to spell relief.

One product "keeps you in the pink," others provide soothing antacids and there are laxatives that are "effective" while "gentle." If all else fails, "plop, plop, fizz, fizz" just may help a person make it through the night.

Although these products may provide temporary relief, abdominal discomfort should not be taken too lightly. According to Dr. Theodore Balam, clinical associate professor of medicine and psychiatry at the University of Illinois, constipation and diarrhea are the two most common symptoms of digestive disease.

"Although everyone experiences these symptoms at one time or another, they are usually temporary, and indicate no serious medical problem. However, they could also be indications of more serious GI problems, including inflammatory or infectious bowel disease or tumor."

Inflammatory bowel disease, an inclusive term used to describe "irritable bowel syndrome" spastic colon, or "nervous stomach," is usually associated with emotional problems, improper diet and stress.

In addition, there are bowel problems that can be life threatening if not promptly diagnosed and treated. Diverticulosis, Chron's Disease and chronic ulcerative colitis are among these. American Cancer Society statistics show that more than 100,000 people in the United States suffer with colon and rectal cancer.

What shape is your stomach in? St. Elizabeth Medical Center is presenting a Community Seminar on Digestive Problems, Tuesday, Jan. 27, at 7 p.m. in the Multi-Purpose Room. Featured speaker will be Dr. Alvin Brown, gastro-intestinal specialist. For reservations, Quad-Cityans may call the Public Relations Department at 796-3167.

State Rep. Sam Wolf is supporting legislation to deter drug-impaired drivers.

Illinois state police in District 11 made 66,182 law enforcement contacts in 1980, compared to 57,005 in 1979.

A vocal rehearsal is set for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 27, at St. Peter's United Church of Christ, Granite City, by the Sweet Adelines.

Belleville Area College trustees are meeting this afternoon on selection of a consultant to aid in the search for a college president.

The Granite City school district's annual spelling bee has been set for 9:15 a.m. March 7 at Coolidge Junior High School.

The SIUE Student Senate voted Friday to spend $200,000 in student fees to build an outdoor swimming pool for recreational purposes. The new, multi-purpose gymnasium facility will include an indoor swimming pool for educational purposes.

The Illinois Supreme Court has instructed Governor James R. Thompson to respond today to Democratic senators' appeal of the election of Republican David C. Shapiro as Illinois Senate president. There are 30 Democrats and 29 Republicans but two Democrats were absent and others were caucusing at the time Thompson ruled Thursday that the presidency could be decided by a majority of those present, not a majority of those elected. Sen. Sam Vadalebe called the ruling a shock and others said they may block Republican legislation in retaliation.

Despite an out-of-court settlement by two unions seeking to represent various Madison County government employees, final approval by the County Board remains uncertain.

Estimates are that it would cost $64,000 to renovate the old county jail for use as office space.

Pres. Carter's proposed 1981-82 budget would end most federal impact aid to local school districts.

Good news today on hostages; ways must be found to discourage future capture of Americans overseas

Quadrants and all Americans rejoice in the news that the 52 Americans held hostage in Iran for 443 days are being flown to freedom today.

The apparent timetable when this was written this morning called for a flight to West Germany by way of Algeria this afternoon (evening hours in Europe). After about a week's recuperation and counseling, the U. S. Embassy personnel are to be reunited with their families in this country.

Barring a last-minute hitch, and none was being predicted, their return will end a long nightmare in which they suffered physical and psychological abuse.

Although Americans died in an on-the-ground night-time air battle, the helicopter collision during an aborted rescue attempt, the imprisonment of the diplomatic staff and servicemen has now been ended without payment of ransom. The billions of dollars being transferred today represent funds owed to Iran and its previous government.

Closely interwoven to the hostage episode is President Jimmy Carter, who was said to be preparing to fly to West Germany today to greet the hostages. Tomorrow is his final day in the White House, and he was said to be planning to hurry back to attend Tuesday's inauguration of his successor, Ronald Reagan.

Hindsight (always clearer than foresight) has convinced many that a bigger American military presence in the Middle East, combined with bold moves within hours of the Embassy capture, could have freed the hostages immediately. But the crisis served to unite the nation behind the president, and he defeated the favored Senator Kennedy in key Democratic primaries while remaining "in the Rose Garden" — the White House — to stay close to any hostage developments (that failed to materialize).

While the situation helped him nail down renomination by his party, it eventually became a negative factor in voters' minds when Mr. Carter sought reelection. They blamed him for an ineffective foreign policy as well as inflation and unemployment.

Perhaps, Pres. Carter deserves the favorable spotlight associated with today's rush to Europe to welcome the group, although authorities interviewed on television, this morning questioned whether it was wise; hostages needing a week before seeing their families might also need a "breather" before seeing their president, it was theorized.

In any case, the freeing of the 52 is good news because there was no other obvious scenario that did not risk their lives as well as those of their captors.

Mr. Reagan called the hostage-takers "barbarians" — in consultation with Carter, as a means of creating "headline pressure on Iran as our inauguration date neared. But it was clear during the weekend that the incoming president is as happy as the outgoing president that the dilemma has been resolved without further bloodshed.

"Virtually all nations condemned the invasion of Iran on grounds, previously thought of as a certain sanctuary, in Iran or anywhere else. But their reprisals against oil-rich Iran were half-hearted and American Asians had to 'go it alone' in seeking a solution.

Adding to the difficulty was our traditional and well-justified respect for the value of each life. Numerous countries might have written off the captured citizens as unfortunate victims and then retaliated with air strikes or an invasion.

Both the old and new administrations seem agreed that the U. S. must continue its devotion to safeguarding individuals, but simultaneously must devise ways of reducing the likelihood of any future lawless capture of innocent Americans traveling or based overseas.

State comes up with wrong answer on overpass site

It never ceases to amaze us how supposedly educated people can make important decisions to improve our lives without ever asking us what we need or want.

The latest example, and one of the clearest we have seen in recent years, is the decision by the St. Louis Metro-Area Rail Gateway Project (MARGE), which apparently has decreed after detailed study (using handbills of federal and state funds), that a railroad overpass or underpass on Maryville Road at Route 203 (Namek Road) would be much better for all of us in the Quad-City area than an overpass or underpass on Route 162 at East 23rd Street.

How inexpensive it would have been to send someone into the Quad-City area to ask a few people where an overpass is most needed and come up with the right answer, instead of spending freely to come up with the wrong answer.

Our observation is that many, many more cars use and experience long delays at the Route 162 crossing than at the so-called "priority" crossings.

In order of importance, local grade separations under consideration by MARGE are: Maryville and Route 203; Pontoon Road near Pontoon Beach; West Pontoon Road by Namek Road, and number four, Route 162.

No wonder Namek Township Supervisor Harold Davis was furious at last week's MARGE meeting. "So one ever asked me anything. They are planning projects which could have a major effect on Namek Township and I was never consulted," Davis told the Press-Record.

Davis said he had signed up to be on the MARGE mailing list, but never received anything.

State Rep. Everett Steele also was upset at the meeting with a total lack of communication.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer of Granite City said at MARGE's first public meeting that the thought of an overpass at West Pontoon Road sends a chill up his back, because of the businesses it might displace around the busy Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center area. The 19th Street overpass should show clearly just how much land an small two-lane overpass eats up, he points out.

Let's hope state and federal planners wake up soon and get the message. We know best what we need and if they would just give us a chance to say so.

We could do some marvelous things with it.

Couple with guns frightens woman

Mrs. Neota Colson, 2737 Iowa St., was startled by loud and persistent knocking on her door at 3:30 p.m. Sunday and when she answered the door, a man and a woman, both armed with guns, forced their way inside and ordered her to stand still.

The man, described as about 30 years old, of medium build and having short dark hair, carried a shotgun or rifle and the woman, described as heavy-set, 28 to 30 years old and having long brown hair, carried a chrome-plated snub-nosed handgun with pearl grips, the victim said.

The man, who was a stranger to Mrs. Colson, said he thought his wife was in the apartment. He searched through the rooms and then the woman left.

On their way to their car, a mid-sized, light-colored, they stopped to talk to two young girls outside. The girls told authorities the armed couple gave them $1 and told them to be quiet about what they saw. They then got into their car and left the scene.

Allege gun pointed at tavern customer

Wilfred J. Stanfill, 55, of 1941 Delmar Ave., was charged with aggravated assault and unlawful use of a weapon after he allegedly pointed a pistol at a customer in Hanlon's Lounge, 1417 Twentieth St., at 10:25 p.m. Thursday.

The customer, Michael Kalips, told police that Stanfill was abusive toward a small girl in the lounge, calling her retarded and sick. Kalips warned Stanfill to stop and Stanfill allegedly used profanity toward Kalips. A bartender then ordered Stanfill to leave, according to official reports.

Stanfill then allegedly stood up, yelled profanities and took a snub-nosed revolver from his pocket, pointing it at Kalips and saying, "Look what I have here," police were told.

Bartender David Nordstrom then frayed Stanfill with chemical mace and he stumbled outside, the witnesses said. Police found Stanfill at 20th and State streets and alleged finding a 38-caliber handgun in his jacket pocket. The gun contained five live rounds, officers said.

10-year jail term for fatal stabbing

A 10-year prison term was imposed Friday on Stanley D. Wells, 18, of the 1900 block of Fourth St., Madison, who was found guilty by a jury last month of armed violence and involuntary manslaughter.

Wells was convicted of fatally stabbing Edward M. Stern, 17, of 1902 Fifth St., Madison, Aug. 8, 1980. Mr. Stern was stabbed with a large knife during an argument involving several youths in the 1900 block of Fourth Street in the early morning hours.

Wells admitted on video tape that he had taken a butcher knife from his home for protection after having had an earlier argument with Mr. Stern, who resided across an alley from Wells.

Defense Attorney Lawrence O. Willbrand of St. Louis contended that the stabbing was accidental, in that Wells was attempting to defend himself.

The girl suffered a cut to her forehead, abrasions to her left cheek and shoulder and pain to her right leg. She was taken by a Granite City ambulance to the medical center.

Girl hit by van

Witnesses said the girl ran from between two parked autos into the street in front of the southbound van, which skidded, but was unable to avoid the collision.

Memorials 32

IN LOVING remembrance of our loved one, JULIUS ZEUGLIN, Jan. 21, 1879 to Jan. 19, 1981. He was always hard to understand, why loved ones must depart, for every day ahead seems gray, when sorrow fills the heart. And yet there is comfort in the thought that just a step away, the one we loved and cherished has found a better day. Eternal life, eternal joy, eternal peace and rest; how comforting it is to think that the loving God knows best. — Fondly remembered by Wife, Son Charles and Family. 32 1 19

IN MEMORY of FLORA RICE who passed away on Jan. 21, 1980. Gone but not forgotten. — Sadly missed by sons, daughters and grandchildren. 32 1 19

TV commercials irritating to many

By JOHN T. WATTS

Dear John: My hat is off to you in the battle of the singing commercial. I don't know why we have to be tortured by something that at least 75 percent of the people object to.

I wish to add another item, that is why oh why do they have the musical "background" when someone, even in sad death scenes, is speaking of something important that we wish to hear?

I suggest some sort of a war by the seniors and plenty other people to organize and see if we can't get some relief from the monopoly they seem to have on the airways.

I suggest people should listen more to the PBOS where we are not insulted. — John M.

Dear John: Ralph P. Article in paper — you sure said a mouthful. Many persons feel like you do about TV commercials, but, Ralph, you forgot one.

Why don't sportscasters shut their face during half time? Army or Navy or Dallas put on a whale of a show, so I hear, but no one sees it. The big boys in the broadcast studio talk on and on and on. Can't someone shut them up? They are boring. — Reader.

Dear John: I just received my issue of The Drummer and I read your column for the first time.

There was a letter from a 71-year-old man indicating his disapproval of TV commercials and their lack of morals.

I am a 19-year-old woman and I would like to make a comment. I totally agree with this man and a saying comes to mind: "For evil to triumph the good sit back and do nothing."

I write letters to the stations and voice my disapproval. — Mrs. Louis H.

Dear TV Critics: The above letters are just a sampling of the reaction to letters complaining about the loud and sometimes off-color TV commercials, singing and otherwise.

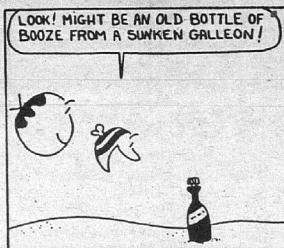

Ralph's letter was published last summer, but reaction is still coming in. He said he bought a TV with remote control and "it has paid for itself many, many times over." He just pushes a button and the sound goes off.

Another reader said he bought an extension cord with an in-line switch, so he turns off the entire program until the objectionable presentation is ended.

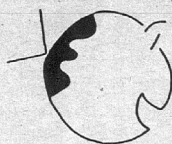

TV advertisers, of course, would not be very enthusiastic about such gimmicks, but maybe they should put an ear to the ground ... or to the TV set.

Ralph said, "The commercials I hate with a purple passion are the singing ones. I don't know of a single product on the market that is so good that it will bring forth a song of joy."

Hollywood Hotline

A new 'Fonz' in their midst?

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — Somewhere in every new television season, producers and network execs hope there's an incipient Henry Winkler lurking.

Or an Edd Byrnes or a Barbara Parkins.

When "Happy Days" went on the air, Ron Howard was expected to be its superstar, and he did do a lot for the show. But it was Henry who as the Fonz made the heaviest impact, whose mannerisms became contagious.

When "Peyton Place" bowed in, Barbara Parkins wasn't expected to be an ongoing regular. Cast as a bad girl, she was scheduled to die in an automobile accident early on, but viewer reaction resulted in a reprieve so that she lasted the length of the series as one of its most popular ingredients.

The case of Edd Byrnes

was even more extreme, because he was the villain who actually died in the "Sunset Strip" pilot. But even as a psycho-killer, he got so much fan mail that he was revitalized as the memorable Kookie, a character every bit as charismatic as Fonzie.

This season ABC may be in for a surprise as viewer reaction to the series "Breaking Away" develops, for, while Shaun Cassidy is nominally its star, he has company in the cast with interesting potential.

Based on the Oscar-nominated movie, "Breaking Away" delineates the adventures of four "cutters," local boys in a college town who don't go to college (not at first anyway), played by Shaun, Tom Wiggins, Thom Bray and Jackie Earle Haley.

Their adversaries come from fraternity row under the leadership of an actor named Steve Doubet whom the Athens, Ga., paper has dubbed "the new J.R."

The ABC series is being shot in Athens which explains that paper's concern.

The public has already evaluated Haley in his "Breaking Away" role, because he's continuing as Moocher, a character he created in the film. But Wiggins, Bray and Doubet are new ingredients remaining to be appraised.

Any one of them may skyrocket and take over the show.

So who are these guys? And how do they judge their prospects?

Doubet, marries to a pre-law student, went to Northwestern, alma mater of a considerable coterie of screen greats: Charlton Heston, Ann-Margret, Cloris Leachman, and on and on.

His father, employee of a tractor company, suggested that Steve get a degree in business but, once convinced that his son was determined to act, made no real objection to his curious calling.

Doubet was pleased to be styled the new J.R. but hopes his character will be more complex than totally villainous.

"I attempt to justify his actions as much as possible," says Steve who never joined a fraternity himself but who pledged two.

How? He pledged one, because he liked some of the upper classment in the chapter, but, when he realized they were about to graduate, he pulled out. He pledged another in order to get a room in the house but was never initiated.

"That was just a technicality," he says.

Bray, son of a New Jersey grocer, is divorced with only casual romantic involvements at the moment, none of which he cares to discuss.

He co-authored an off-off-Broadway show, "Square Pegs in Round Holes," and has just made a movie, "Graduation," but he's probably most recognizable from television commercials which, unlike most actors, he enjoys doing. And not just because of the money.

Yes, a Minit Rice commercial did pay for his new car, but it also challenged his acting skills in a way he savored.

"Commercials," says Thom, "are very fast moving ... In a way, they are like summer stock. Working in commercials taught me how to use the camera."

He's known all his life that he wanted to act, "but I've pondered from time to time whether I should stay in it."

Every performer is out of work, even the most established. But, as an actor, you get clues that should tell you whether you are where you belong.

Among Bray's ambitions is an urge to direct and an even bigger one to work with Walter Matthau.

In his fantasies, he's a sportscaster ("That's the way to the presidency") or a pitcher for the Yankees.

"Isn't that the fantasy of every red-blooded American boy?" Thom asks.

Tom Wiggins, playing Mike, Dennis Quaid's character in the movie, is a Virginian trained at Columbia University and London's Royal Academy of Dramatic Art.

A bachelor, he prefers to date "civilians," because he finds constant shop talk tiresome. "You want to hear other problems." But he doesn't judge a girl entirely by her career goals.

"If I meet a banker who is articulate, intelligent and beautiful, I'd be attracted to her," Tom says. "If she were an actress, I'd also be attracted."

He thinks Quaid brought a "sharper edge" to the role of Mike than he's bringing because of natural differences in the two.

"He's just sharper. His nose is long and sharp. Mine is round."

If his name becomes a household word because of "Breaking Away," Wiggins points out that he won't be an overnight success.

"I'm 25 years old. I've been in this business four and a half years."

So he thinks he could handle accolades should they come.

"The main thing," he says, "is to keep your head on straight."

A slick plan for a rainy day.

Some people manage to go through life without ever having a rainy day. But most people run into a storm now and then.

So it pays to plan for a storm and then hope it never happens.

The Payroll Savings Plan is one sure, safe, easy way to force yourself to start saving. And savings are a must to keep any financial plan from going on the skids.

The little you set aside each payday for U.S. Savings Bonds will grow. And help to keep you covered come rain or come shine.

And if you're lucky enough to miss the rain, it might help you plant a few shade trees.

Take stock
 in America.

When you put part of your savings into U.S. Savings Bonds you're helping to build a brighter future for your country and for yourself.
